

WITH JERSEY BELLES and BEAUX

Long Branch,

N. J., Aug. 5.—Preparations are being rapidly pushed forward for the great military tournament in the grounds of the Monmouth County Horse Show Association. Joseph V. Jordan, of Elberon, with his characteristic liberality, has subscribed $500, and Walter E. Hildreth, as much more, to start the list. Thomas J. O'Donohue, Senator James Smith, Jr., President Randolph Guggenheimer, of the New York Council; former Senator Blodgett, John T. Devine, Herbert Kelsey and Mr. Davis have all come forward liberally. There will be $1,000 given in prizes. August 20 has been settled as the date, but it may possibly be changed. There are to be competitive rifle, first and twelfth New York and New Jersey regiments are to take part.

The Summer night festival at the West End on Thursday next is to be a most delightful affair, and new features are being constantly added to the programme. Fireworks, music by forty musicians of the Seventh Regiment band, under Ernest Neyer's leadership; then will come a vaudeville entertainment, then a cake walk, with a prize of $20. In the cake will be concealed a $5 gold piece, and the cake will be cut and distributed, the lucky finder being the owner. After all is over dancing will begin, both on the lawn and in the ballroom.

There are a great many golf enthusiasts, who play on Hollywood's fine links. Among them are R. P. Dobbins, Mr. and Mrs. John Dos Passos, Hon. A. N. Brady, Bland Ballard, Franklin Blen, Jr., William Martin, Temple Bowdoin, W. H. Barnard, George H. Parsons, Senator James Smith, Jr., Jasper Lynch, G. H. Milliken, J. E. O'Donohue, George M. Pullman, C. Roberts, John S. Sutphen, Jr., Miss Alice Wilson, Miss Emily Wilson, Miss E. L. Young, Mr. and Mrs. A. McIntyre, Chauncey H. Murphy, Mrs. Deering, Miss Mar Deering, Mrs. Herbert Newcomb, Mrs. James Smith, Jr., Mrs. George Hurd, Miss Geraldine Harrison, Miss Geraldine Fearon, Chauncey H. Murphy, Miss Gwendolyn Ayres Nathans, Morgan J. O'Brien, Miss M. M. F. O'Donohue, Miss S. O'Donohue Chauncey Truax and Miss Josephine Wupperman.

Among the latest arrivals at the Howland were noticed Mrs. Jeanne Franke, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Altini, C. L. Andrews, Mrs. S. Danzig, Miss Danzig, Miss Carroll, Mrs. S. Wilhelmshar, W. C. McKnight, Edward Jacobs, Charles Salomon, E. H. Crawford and H. Pearl, of New York.

Miss S. Mochalski, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Brien, and family, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Levy and family, J. Cohn and Miss Annie Cohn are some New Yorkers who are passing August at the West End.

The cotillion recently given at the Ocean House by Mrs. C. H. Rivers, Jr., was a great success, and many new figures were introduced.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor S. Flechter have returned to the Branch and will spend August at the Scarborough. Some other New Yorkers sojourning there are Mrs. F. Morris, Martin King, Sanford Wolfe, Mrs. D. Schweitzer and N. D. Bendham.

The amateur theatricals held in the Norwood Park Casino for the benefit of the Monmouth Memorial Hospital have proved most successful, an astonishing amount of real talent having been displayed. Miss Etta Henderson has been coaching the players, and has done much toward making the play a success. Among the actors are H. R. Billings, Miss Norma Monro and Mr. and Mrs. Banich.

Seabright, N. J., Aug. 5.—During the past week red coats have been so numerous that they really seemed to outnumber the black ones, and even the ladies have sacrificed comfort and coolness of reinment to picturesque effect and have donned the scarlet jackets, too. A good many of the girls are sacrificing their good looks to their ardor for golf, for it is by no means every one who looks well in that brilliant color.

There have been no open matches on the Seabright links this Summer, but there have been ever so many individual matches for very handsome prizes. The Captain's or Menzies Cup is being played for at present, and the ladies have entered a contest for a silver cup. Mrs. A. H. Porter, Miss J. C. Clark, Miss Shippen, Mrs. E. L. Kaldelsch, Mrs. Kneeland, Mrs. Symington and Miss Ellen Porter, Miss Shippen and Mrs. Porter hold the highest records.

Mr. and Mrs. Auerbach, Mr. and Mrs. Klugore, Mrs. M. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Hagan, the Misses Hagan, G. D. Porter, Stuart H. Patterson, Mrs. Winter, Miss Clayton, the Misses Flaven and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Herbert were the members of a very enjoyable launch party that went from the Rumson Beach a few evenings ago. The great social event of the past week was the cake walk by the guests of the Rumson Beach Hotel, who blackened themselves for the occasion and wore the most marvellous of costumes. W. H. Lavin acted as floor manager, and the judges were C. A. Mitchell, J. B. Cox, A. W. Miller and D. G. Weems. They awarded the first prizes and cake to J. W. Hagan and Mrs. Palmer, and the second to Miss Van Dora Hagan and Stuart H. Patterson. Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Woertz, who have a handsome house on the Rumson Road, are golf enthusiasts. They often drive over to the Deal links for a game.

One of the handsomest turnouts of Seabright is the victoria and pair of Mr. and Mrs. George A. McKay, who have a house on Rumson Road.

trial one hour and twelve minutes, and on the second trial in fifty-nine minutes.

Miss Geraldine Harrison, of Philadelphia, takes a ride every day on her fine bay. She is an expert horsewoman. Some other fair equestriennes who are passing the Summer at the hotel are Mrs. George V. Hurd, of San Francisco, and Mrs. Frederick Kohl.

Franklin Murphy, chairman of the Republican State Executive Committee, is Elberon's most ardent and successful fisherman.

William M. V. Hoffman, the well known horseman, has been here for the past week.

Thomas Britton, of New York, has been visiting "Billy" Martin, at the Martin cottage here. Both the young men are noted athletes. Mr. Britton's of Asbury's most successful fishermen. He is spending the Summer with his family at the Wellington.

Some fair guests of this house are Miss Julia S. Jones, of Dover, Del., who is fond of surf bathing and dancing; Miss Harriet L. Muir, of New York, who is a great bicyclist, and Miss Adelaide Mullen, of Elizabeth, who is also devoted to wheeling. Judge H. M. McClure, of Lonsburg, is a season's guest at this hotel, with his wife and family. The Judge's father, J. C. McClure, of Scranton, Pa., is also a member of the party.

Some pretty riders of the wheel, who are stopping at the Madison, are Miss Emma Boyd, Miss Harriet Boyd and Miss Bessie Boyd. Their brothers, William and James Boyd, often accompany them. They are from Harlem. Frederick N. Grosscup, of Adela Schoen won the first prize, and the second was secured by Miss Ethel McMullen.

F. W. Stewart is one of Asbury's best swimmers. He is a son of Congressman Stewart, and is a guest at Norwood Hall. Miss Louise T. Wheeler, of Boston, is a surprisingly talented young lady, who is also stopping at this hotel. Among her other accomplishments are playing golf, rowing and swimming. Another guest of Norwood Hall is Professor W. C. Peckham, of liquid air fame.

Ocean Grove,

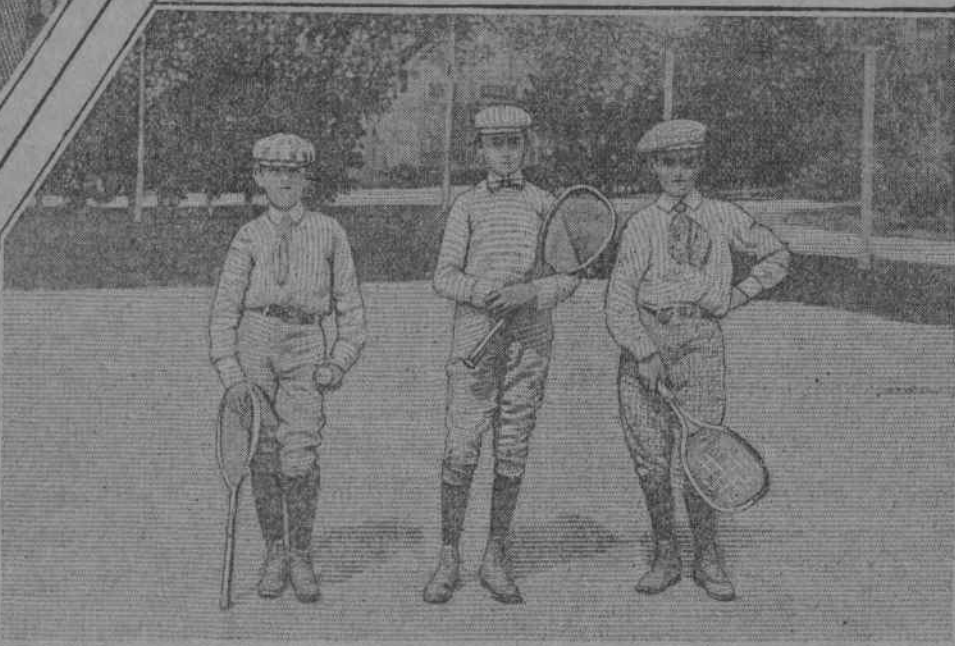

N. J., Aug. 5.—The Grove has a very good baseball team that at present is proud of having defeated the Norwood nine at their last

ATLANTIC CITY COUNTRY CLUB AND GOLF LINKS.

FIRST LIEUTENANT N. R. E. BROWN. 23RD REGULAR CADET CORPS, AND CAPT. J. R. SMITH OF THE STAFF. ASBURY PARK

ON THE TENNIS COURT AT RICHFIELD

this hotel, is a golf enthusiast. The Rev. Charles J. Holt, who is another guest of the house, has been the rector of St. James Episcopal Church in Fordham for the past fifteen years. He rides a bicycle, and is much given to surf bathing.

Assistant District Attorney Henry W. Unger, of New York, who is at the Waldorf for the Summer, is devoted to bicycling. He goes in the surf every day, accompanied by his wife and family. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ward, and their family, who are also Waldorf guests, are enthusiastic bathers. Miss Sadie Schwereinski, who is at the Waldorf for the season, is joined every Friday by her fiancé, Louis A. Abrams, who comes from New York to spend Sunday here.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Leavitt, of New York, have one of the handsomest turnouts in the Park. They are at the Lafayette, with their family.

N. J., Aug. 5.—Senator Bradley is a great believer in outdoor sports, and has put a number of open spaces in the park at the service of the baseball and football and tennis players. There are no golf links here, and, indeed, within Asbury's square mile of land there is no room for any. Nor could sufficient adjoining land be bought to advantage for such a purpose, because on all sides it is quite closely built up. The Deal links are within a few minutes' ride, and so links actually in Asbury are scarcely needed.

Baseball seems to be very popular here this season, and several clubs have been formed. Probably the most successful of these is the Brunswick nine, which bids defiance to all comers. It is composed of Dr. Lee B. Woodcock, formerly pitcher of the Princeton nine, who is the captain; J. C. Kissell, T. V. Jackson, Ray Ryan, V. Ryan, Benjamin Farrier, Jack McDermott, H. Krause and W. Jones Wilcox, all of whom have been members of college teams.

Miss Gomez, of the Brunswick, is a golf enthusiast, and every clear day finds her on the Deal links. She is quite an expert at the game, and looks very well in her chic costume.

Among the best whips on the coast this Summer is Gregoire de Wollant, the Russian Charge d'Affaires at Washington, who is summering here. William A. Green, of Washington, D. C., is one of Asbury's athletes. He plays golf, rides a bicycle, and is a great swimmer. He is also a fine dancer. He stops at the West End.

State Senator J. Frank Allen, of Delaware, is one

MISS WURSTER, MISS F. ACER, W. WILLIAMS, W. FRICK LAKE HOPATCONG.

a very handsome turnout. She and Mr. Henderson are at the Sussex and Essex for the Summer.

Arthur Corlies, of Brooklyn, who is stopping at the Sussex and Essex, is very fond of horseback exercise. He rides a handsome bay.

Among Spring Lake's bowling experts are Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Hart, Mr. and Mrs. F. Folger, Mr. and Mrs. E. Elverson, Miss Elverson, Roy Elverson, Miss Musser, Ralph Musser and H. Lidsman.

Joseph Hesslerer is one of Spring Lake's golf enthusiasts and is seldom seen without his golf sticks. He is at the Monmouth.

Two other guests of that house who are much given to golf are E. A. Lupton and H. Lupton, of England.

Miss Lee Ellis and her sister, Miss L. O. Ellis, are two attractive girls at the Monmouth who are expert tennis players.

W. S. Cross, of New York, is very fond of boating and is the proud owner of the only steam launch here.

N. J., Aug. 5.—Sports occupy much of the time of Sea Girl's Summer guests.

chief and most popular among them being swimming in the surf, although golf and tennis have a fair share of attention also.

Dr. Percival Frazer, of Philadelphia, who is stopping at the Beach House with his wife and family, is devoted to golf. His son, Jack Frazer, is an all around athlete, who rides and drives and plays golf and tennis and swims as a mere matter of course.

W. T. Gooch, from Orange, who is here with his wife and family, is devoted to outdoor sports. Tennis and golf and equal favor with him.

Among the golf enthusiasts here is Mrs. St. Clare, of Philadelphia, who is stopping at the Beach House.

Another fair devotee of the Scotch game is Miss Carrie Tutill, of Newburg. She plays tennis also.

N. J., Aug. 5.—Golf teas

Miss Fairbanks, who is at the popular hotel, is the champion swimmer among the ladies here.

Miss Ernestine Wescher, one of Brooklyn's prettiest girls, is summering here.

Dr. and Mrs. Condit are rusticationing among the mountains.

Miss A. E. Dougherty, a well-known New York soprano, delights her guests at a popular hotel with her beautiful voice.

The Misses Lena and Rosie Bungert, well known in Brooklyn society circles, are here for the season.

Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Simpson, of New York, will spend August here.

The Hon. J. N. Gates, a prominent New York educationist, is here with his wife for an extended stay.

Mrs. E. T. Bartlett and E. C. Bartlett have closed their cottage at Bensonhurst, and will spend the balance of the season here.

Another University of Pennsylvania man at the Carrollton is C. M. Cameron, of New York, who is a golf enthusiast.

Miss E. B. Parker, of Philadelphia, is one of the fair guests of the Stratford-on-Sea who is devoted to golf. Miss E. Davis and her brother, F. W. Davis, of South Orange, who are guests of this house, are both excellent swimmers in the surf.

A novel form of amusement that was indulged in at the Stratford last week was a "Captain Kidd party." Armed with lanterns, the guests went treasure hunting on the beach and returned in triumph with their trophies. These were toys and other similar things that had been hidden there earlier in the evening by the "Hiding Committee."

The party was a great success.

N. J., Aug. 5.—The biggest week of the season at this resort will be that which follows to-night. There are probably more people here than at any time during the present season, and the arrivals of next week will be much larger.

Mrs. L. Kenward and Miss Thara Mills are among New Yorkers who recently arrived at the Lafayette.

Mrs. J. H. Marsh and the Misses Eva and Louise Marsh are among New Yorkers staying at the Ocean Breeze villa.

Thomas L. George, of Philadelphia, a brother of the late Henry George, is among the guests at the Carroll Villa. At the same house are Dr. and Mrs. Franklin G. Brown, of New York City.

J. E. Prindle, passenger agent of the Norfolk and Western Railroad, in New York, is a guest at Congress Hall.

E. G. Mayer, of New York, is a guest at the Pier Avenue Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith, of Brooklyn, N. Y., are located at Oriole for a short stay.

U. Catham, a well-known member of Char's

Frohmans' company, is spending his vacation at the Merchants' Exchange.

Miss B. Warner, of Brooklyn, was among the late arrivals at the Windsor. She will remain here until early in September.

Miss Chaloner is among the New York belles staying at the Cape House, Cape May Point.

Ex-Governor and Mrs. Daniel Hastings and Miss Hastings are guests at the cottage of Colonel John I. Rodgers, the head of the Philadelphia baseball team.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Cummings and Miss Marie Cummings have joined the New York contingent at the Chalfonts.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. S. Lineau and Miss Agnes Lineau are among New Yorkers who have recently arrived at the Stockton.

Former Peace Commissioner and Mrs. George Grey, of Delaware, are numbered among the very prominent guests who are making the Stockton a short visit.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Pearson, Jr., are located at Congress Hall for a brief visit.

Aug. 5.—Huckle-

berry picking is the latest fad of the Summer girls. Early in the morning whole troops of them go out on the mountain sides and pick a quart or so for breakfast. It is a rare appetizer, and the only drawback is the stain of the pretty fingers, which have to be white as snow for the evening hops, concerts and card parties.

With the water "just right" and most delightful weather it is no wonder that the bass bite freely. Some excellent catches have been made this week, among them a six-pound five ounce fish, brought ashore by Millanale John Poles Wetherell, J. Byron Stark, New York's well-known club man and champion amateur billiard player of America, caught one weighing five pounds eleven ounces. Stockbroker H. R. Kretschmar, of New York, in a few days' fishing brought in eighty-eight, the combined weight being 135 pounds.

Arrivals have been very numerous this week. Miss Fairbanks, who is at a popular hotel, is the champion swimmer among the ladies here.

Miss Ernestine Wescher, one of Brooklyn's prettiest girls, is summering here.

Dr. and Mrs. Condit are rusticationing among the mountains.

Miss A. E. Dougherty, a well-known New York soprano, delights her guests at a popular hotel with her beautiful voice.

The Misses Lena and Rosie Bungert, well known in Brooklyn society circles, are here for the season.

Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Simpson, of New York, will spend August here.

The Hon. J. N. Gates, a prominent New York educationist, is here with his wife for an extended stay.

Mrs. E. T. Bartlett and E. C. Bartlett have closed their cottage at Bensonhurst, and will spend the balance of the season here.

Another University of Pennsylvania man at the Carrollton is C. M. Cameron, of New York, who is a golf enthusiast.

Miss E. B. Parker, of Philadelphia, is one of the fair guests of the Stratford-on-Sea who is devoted to golf. Miss E. Davis and her brother, F. W. Davis, of South Orange, who are guests of this house, are both excellent swimmers in the surf.

A novel form of amusement that was indulged in at the Stratford last week was a "Captain Kidd party." Armed with lanterns, the guests went treasure hunting on the beach and returned in triumph with their trophies. These were toys and other similar things that had been hidden there earlier in the evening by the "Hiding Committee."

The party was a great success.

N. J., Aug. 5.—The biggest week of the season at this resort will be that which follows to-night. There are probably more people here than at any time during the present season, and the arrivals of next week will be much larger.

Mrs. L. Kenward and Miss Thara Mills are among New Yorkers who recently arrived at the Lafayette.

Mrs. J. H. Marsh and the Misses Eva and Louise Marsh are among New Yorkers staying at the Ocean Breeze villa.

Thomas L. George, of Philadelphia, a brother of the late Henry George, is among the guests at the Carroll Villa. At the same house are Dr. and Mrs. Franklin G. Brown, of New York City.

J. E. Prindle, passenger agent of the Norfolk and Western Railroad, in New York, is a guest at Congress Hall.

E. G. Mayer, of New York, is a guest at the Pier Avenue Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith, of Brooklyn, N. Y., are located at Oriole for a short stay.

U. Catham, a well-known member of Char's

Frohmans' company, is spending his vacation at the Merchants' Exchange.

Miss B. Warner, of Brooklyn, was among the late arrivals at the Windsor. She will remain here until early in September.

Miss Chaloner is among the New York belles staying at the Cape House, Cape May Point.

Ex-Governor and Mrs. Daniel Hastings and Miss Hastings are guests at the cottage of Colonel John I. Rodgers, the head of the Philadelphia baseball team.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Cummings and Miss Marie Cummings have joined the New York contingent at the Chalfonts.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. S. Lineau and Miss Agnes Lineau are among New Yorkers who have recently arrived at the Stockton.

Former Peace Commissioner and Mrs. George Grey, of Delaware, are numbered among the very prominent guests who are making the Stockton a short visit.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Pearson, Jr., are located at Congress Hall for a brief visit.

Aug. 5.—Huckle-

berry picking is the latest fad of the Summer girls. Early in the morning whole troops of them go out on the mountain sides and pick a quart or so for breakfast. It is a rare appetizer, and the only drawback is the stain of the pretty fingers, which have to be white as snow for the evening hops, concerts and card parties.

With the water "just right" and most delightful weather it is no wonder that the bass bite freely. Some excellent catches have been made this week, among them a six-pound five ounce fish, brought ashore by Millanale John Poles Wetherell, J. Byron Stark, New York's well-known club man and champion amateur billiard player of America, caught one weighing five pounds eleven ounces. Stockbroker H. R. Kretschmar, of New York, in a few days' fishing brought in eighty-eight, the combined weight being 135 pounds.

Arrivals have been very numerous this week. Miss Fairbanks, who is at a popular hotel, is the champion swimmer among the ladies here.

Miss Ernestine Wescher, one of Brooklyn's prettiest girls, is summering here.

Dr. and Mrs. Condit are rusticationing among the mountains.

Miss A. E. Dougherty, a well-known New York soprano, delights her guests at a popular hotel with her beautiful voice.

The Misses Lena and Rosie Bungert, well known in Brooklyn society circles, are here for the season.

Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Simpson, of New York, will spend August here.

The Hon. J. N. Gates, a prominent New York educationist, is here with his wife for an extended stay.

Mrs. E. T. Bartlett and E. C. Bartlett have closed their cottage at Bensonhurst, and will spend the balance of the season here.

Another University of Pennsylvania man at the Carrollton is C. M. Cameron, of New York, who is a golf enthusiast.

Miss E. B. Parker, of Philadelphia, is one of the fair guests of the Stratford-on-Sea who is devoted to golf. Miss E. Davis and her brother, F. W. Davis, of South Orange, who are guests of this house, are both excellent swimmers in the surf.

A novel form of amusement that was indulged in at the Stratford last week was a "Captain Kidd party." Armed with lanterns, the guests went treasure hunting on the beach and returned in triumph with their trophies. These were toys and other similar things that had been hidden there earlier in the evening by the "Hiding Committee."

The party was a great success.

N. J., Aug. 5.—The biggest week of the season at this resort will be that which follows to-night. There are probably more people here than at any time during the present season, and the arrivals of next week will be much larger.

Mrs. L. Kenward and Miss Thara Mills are among New Yorkers who recently arrived at the Lafayette.

Mrs. J. H. Marsh and the Misses Eva and Louise Marsh are among New Yorkers staying at the Ocean Breeze villa.

Thomas L. George, of Philadelphia, a brother of the late Henry George, is among the guests at the Carroll Villa. At the same house are Dr. and Mrs. Franklin G. Brown, of New York City.

J. E. Prindle, passenger agent of the Norfolk and Western Railroad, in New York, is a guest at Congress Hall.

E. G. Mayer, of New York, is a guest at the Pier Avenue Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith, of Brooklyn, N. Y., are located at Oriole for a short stay.

U. Catham, a well-known member of Char's